“Apples and Wild Grapes”

Please join Rico for another Watercolour Workshop at the beautiful settings of Cooper's Hawk Vineyards. Rico will be sharing with you the tricks and techniques he uses in creating the “Apples and Wild Grapes” painting. Upon completing this workshop you will have a good understanding of this simple technique but professionally applied. The blending of the apples from dry brush to the soft and loose background is just one of the special techniques that Rico uses in most of his paintings. He will guide you step by step, one on one approach to have a better understanding of this delicate technique.

The Apples and Wild Grapes

“ As the summer ends, apples and wild grapes begins their new journey, a journey to a change, a change of colours, the crimson reds, the bright golden yellows. Wild grapes darkens their blues catching the rich and gloomy afternoon sunshine that glistens their skins. Each brushstroke and paint fades away to the background becomes part of the subject itself. The leaves remains green but with a touch of yellow ochre, barely canopies the vines giving a hint of the upcoming Autumn ahead. This unauthorized relationship between the tamed and untamed nature reflects stronger bonds capturing the beauty that only an artist could understand”
